The Picture

PRESENTED BY THE JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLASSES
OF PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
NINETEEN HUNDRED FORTY-FOUR AND FIVE

P R E S E N T A T I O N

James McNeil Whistler

Long after he grew

Presented his mater

For the public to view.

So we, like that painter

With tenderness do

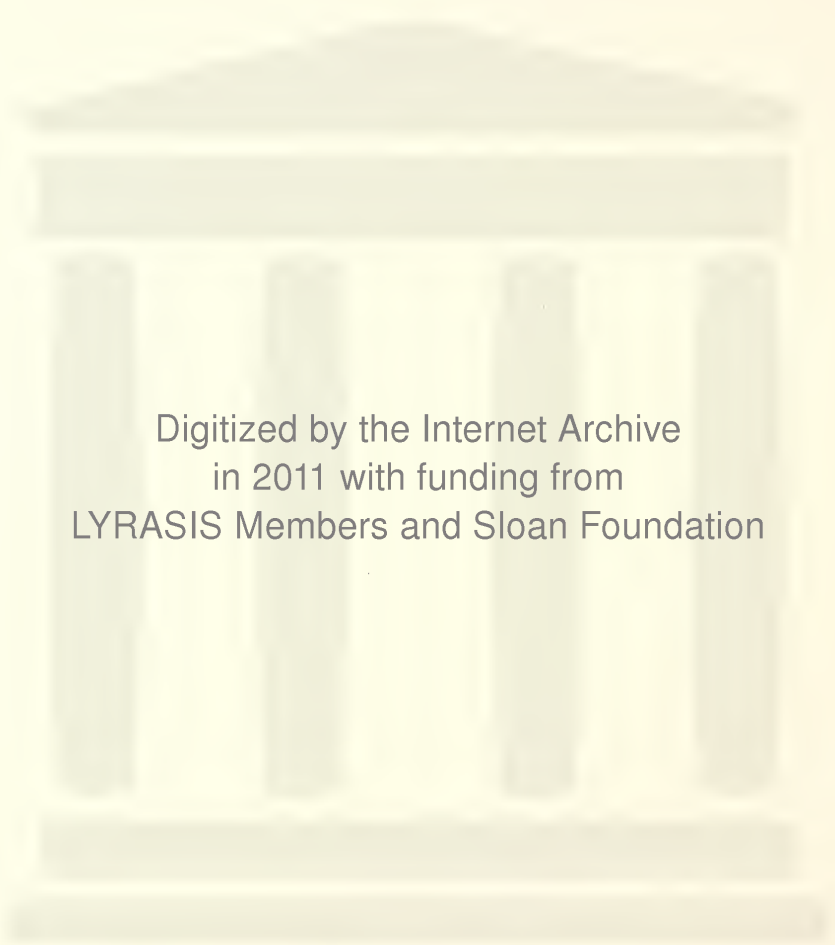

Present Alma Mater,

Dear Public, to you!

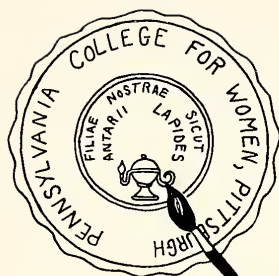

IN MEMORIAM

There was no one to whom we would rather dedicate this painting of our college than Dr. Nita Butler. Painting of any kind brings reminiscences of her inspired teaching of the history of art. Little things we remember . . . Old Masters and surrealism . . . the fun we had in class . . . a warm smile and the cock of her head . . . and a kind word for everyone. A sense and appreciation of beauty have been painted in our minds by the art brush of her guidance; the ancient pasts of Italy and Rome have been shaded into our present with a fine artistic unity.

But it is for more than teaching that we dedicate our picture to Dr. Butler. We shall never forget her merry personality, deep interest, and classic mind which shall always linger on the scene from which we draw our subject.
